CURB SECURTIES REACH NEW HIGHS

Trading Covers Unusually Broad List, With Independent Oils Most Active.

With increased activity, making it one of the most active markets in recent weeks, prices for all the leading issues on the Broad street curb continued yesterday to higher levels and again established many new highs. An unsually broad list of stocks was dealt in and several new offerings were introduced to the market. Most of the heavy activity was confined again to independent oils, although several industrials displayed unusual activity.

Advances extended from a fraction to six or more points and, while realizing was in evidence toward the close of the market, only small losses from the

was in evidence toward the close of the market, only small losses from the fay's top prices were shown. General Asphalt common and preferred on increased heavy trading moved to new high record prices and Shell Trading and Transport gained about a point, also to new high ground. Louisiana district stocks were prominent again and were led by Simms Petroleum, which went to new ground with a substantial advance.

Standard Oil securities were active in spots and made small advances, while Standard Oil securities were active in spots and made small advances, while Midwest Refining was little changed. Renewed buying of Loft, Inc., was one of the features of the industrials. It moved to a new high for the present tooyement on heavy transactions. American Tooseco Securities were slightly lower, but the other tobacco shares were strong at the end of business. Vanadium Steel was firm early, but inter reacted somewhat, while Canopus Iron moved to a new high for this move. United States Steamship was pushed about two points higher on a large turnover and Indian Packing gained more than three.

The continued demand for Interboro Rapid Transit 7s at the opening featured the bond section. They quickly advanced four points, part of which was lost late in the afternoon. The rest of the market was more active than usual, but changes were small.

The Main Reason for the Growth of this Company

THE fact that we follow the usual practice of paying interest on check accounts does not, of itself, explain the remarkable growth of this institution-nearly $20,000,000 deposits in its ten months of business.

What does explain this growth, we believe, is the close relationship which the Officers maintain with the depositors-the giving of sound advice on the individual problems of every depositor, big or little, who seeks advice.
